

Interaction diagram 1: look-back feature

1.0

User taps a look-back button that appears as part of item text.

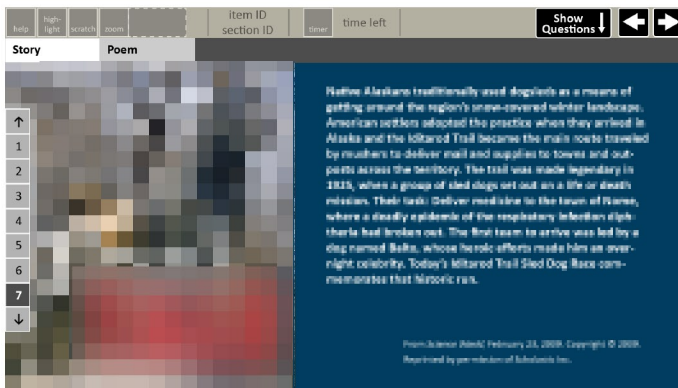

1.1

The item panel animates off the screen; all controls are temporarily disabled.

1.2

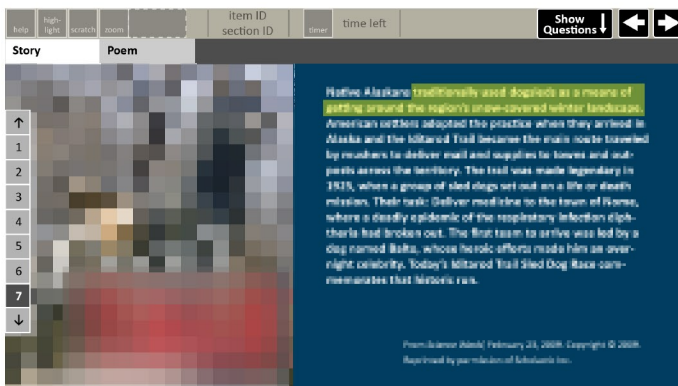

If the look-back references a separate passage, the correct passage tab should be toggled now.

1.3

The page is turned to the section indicated. If multiple page-turns are required to get there, animations may need to be tuned so the process isn't too laggy.

Scrolling passages can show a scroll animation.

1.4

If this particular look-back reference is supposed to be highlighted (this will be indicated in the passage HTML), the highlight should be activated after the paging animation concludes.

1.5

Control state is re-set, and the student is now free to re-open the question panel and respond to the question.

1.6

Once activated, highlighting persists until the user moves to a different item.
